

Country Name: IRELAND

Looted Judaica and Judaica with Provenance Gaps in Country
Existing Projects
Overview	Looted Cultural Property Databases
	Publications Irish-Jewish Museum Source: (1) http://jewishmuseum.ie , last accessed November 2015. The museum possesses one Torah scroll, labeled the "Dublin scroll," which originated from Brandys-nad-Labem and is one of the 1,564 Czech scrolls collected in 1942 from congregations across Bohemia and Moravia. (Information on the Torah scroll is available on the museum's website).
	Information from Other Sources
	Historical Commission
Selected Bibliography	→ Please note that the general literature may also contain information on the specific country. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ "Interim Report Completed into Hunt Museum 'Nazi Link' Investigation". Limerick Post Monday 27 February 2006. ▪ http://www.ria.ie/getmedia/c7eeb36f-5121-4ac4-9171-8fa1c9731e13/The-Hunt-Report---Final-Report.pdf.aspx. Nancy Yeide report on collection held at Hunt museum (last accessed January 2014) ▪ Pogatchnik, Shawn. Associated Press September 28, 2007
Notes	Source: (1) http://nationalmuseums.org.uk/ , last accessed June 2014. The National Museums Directors' Conference established a searchable listing where museums have the opportunity to list objects with unclear provenance. Some Irish museums are participating in this database.